

The Entrepreneur

Tebogo Phiri's journey from his roots in Dobsonville, Soweto, to his success as a prominent entrepreneur in Johannesburg is a compelling narrative of determination and innovation. Growing up in a community where entrepreneurial spirit was nurtured, Tebogo's early ventures included selling fruits and vegetables, reflecting his innate business acumen. His solid educational background in commercial subjects, combined with hands-on experience in various sales and management roles, laid a strong foundation for his future endeavors.

Tebogo's career was marked by a persistent drive towards entrepreneurship, balancing professional roles with personal ventures. His leadership and organizational skills, evident from a young age, guided him towards a pivotal opportunity—transforming a residential property into Disoufeng Pub. Despite facing challenges such as licensing issues and fierce competition, Tebogo's strategic thinking and resilience allowed him to navigate these obstacles successfully. Under his leadership, Disoufeng evolved from a simple pub into a vibrant lifestyle brand, offering unique experiences and catering to a diverse clientele.

The strategic decision to rebrand Disoufeng as a lifestyle business was a game-changer for Tebogo. By embracing innovation and leveraging his extensive network, he curated exclusive events and forged key partnerships that enhanced the brand's reputation. His success with Disoufeng not only boosted the local economy but also positioned him as a mentor and role model for aspiring entrepreneurs. Tebogo Phiri's story exemplifies the power of vision, perseverance, and opportunity, establishing him as a significant figure in South African entrepreneurship.

Interview an Entrepreneur

Worksheet 10

Identify, contact, and interview the entrepreneur; reflect on the entrepreneur engagement experience; and share lessons, recommendations, and feedback.

Worksheet 10.1

In this section, your task is to interview a entrepreneur in your neighbourhood and explore their understanding of entrepreneurship. Through this interview, you will gain insights into the challenges and opportunities that come with starting and running a business.

Step 1:

Identify an entrepreneur in your neighbourhood whom you would like to interview. You can use various resources such as social media, local business directories, or word of mouth to find them.

Step 2:

Contact the entrepreneur and request an interview. You can do this via email, phone call, or in-person visit. Explain the purpose of the interview, the time required, and the expected outcomes.

Step 3:

Prepare a set of questions for the interview. This will help you to focus the conversation and ensure that you cover all the essential aspects of entrepreneurship. Some potential questions might include:

- What inspired you to start your business?
- What are some of the biggest challenges you faced when starting your business?
- How did you overcome these challenges?
- What has been your most successful business venture so far, and why?
- What advice would you give to someone who wants to start their own business?

Step 4:

Conduct the interview. This can be done in-person, over the phone, or via video conferencing. Make sure to record the conversation with the entrepreneur's permission.

Step 5:

Analyze the data collected during the interview. This can be done by reviewing the recording, taking notes, and summarizing the key findings.

Step 6:

Reflect on the insights gained from the interview. This can be done individually or as a group. Consider the challenges and opportunities faced by entrepreneurs and how they impact the local economy.

Step 7:

Write a report summarizing the interview and your reflections. This can be done in the form of a written essay, a presentation, or a video. Make sure to include key takeaways from the interview and any recommendations for aspiring entrepreneurs.

Operations Model (use. Worksheet 4.2) as a guide as well. A framework has been provided for you (page 33).

Remember:

- Inputs
- Production and Transformation
- Output
- Customer Experience

Staffing:

- How many employees are employed by the entrepreneur?
- What roles do they fill?
- What training is offered or should be offered?
- How is performance managed?

Inventory:

- What inventory is managed, and how is it managed?
- How is the supply chain managed, and how are the supply chain relationships managed?
- What tools or systems will you use to track inventory?

Customer Service:

- What is the customer service philosophy?
- How does the entrepreneur ensure that customers are satisfied?
- How is customer satisfaction measured?
- How does he or his business respond to feedback?

Review the operations plan of the entrepreneur:

- Identify where the current operational plan falls short. What shortfalls did you identify?
- Make recommendations to close the identified gaps. What recommendations did you make?
- How open to feedback was the entrepreneur? How did you determine this?
